From Bits to Data, from Pipes to Clouds
The network as an asset for convergence of Telecoms, IT and Media into an Internet of Knowledge

4-7 October 2011, Berlin, Germany

Only four weeks left before ICIN 2011

ICIN 2011 is Serious about Services
Conference Provides Hype-Free Information and Insights

The ICIN 2011 conference provides a comprehensive, varied and technically sound view on how the communications industry is moving forward towards a communication landscape focusing on data, information and related distributed functions.

The conference explores current transformations from the perspective of several actors: Communications Service Providers, Communications Vendors, Users and Academia providing a broad view of these changes and their consequences.

Details of the ICIN 2011 Programme can be downloaded here.

The extensive four-day programme includes tutorials, scientific and technical sessions, demonstrations and posters, and keynote and workshop sessions. Papers and presentations will document and explain the very latest research results from operators and R&D establishments.

REGISTER NOW! if you are serious about services and want to hear the latest results and experiences from leading researchers and practitioners.

You will find additional information on our web site at www.icin.biz.

As the chairmen of the Technical Programme Committee and International Advisory Board, we look forward to welcoming you in Berlin at ICIN 2011.
